CHAMBERLAIN CHOICE

"Antis," However, Will Attempt to Defeat Will of the People.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 10.—The probable election of a Democrat to the United States senate by the Republicans pledged to do so will be the chief feature of the Oregon legislature, which convenes in this city tomorrow. There is but one esudidate for United States senator, George E. Chamberlain, the present governer of Oregon, who was selected as the choice of the people last June, defeating the Republican party choice H. M. Cake, who defeated United States

tant Measures.

In adm to this event, which is attracting minimal attention, because it involves a new method of selecting United States senators, there are a number of projected measures of importance, three at least being of wide interest. Of these, two affect the grain shipping interests, one being a measure o remove the compulsory pilotage sys-tem for the mouth of the Columbia river, which affects only foreign vesels, and the other designed to reduce the fee or 'blood money' which mas-ters of sailing vessels must pay to sailor's boarding house proprietors for shipping seamen. The third measure of importance relates to the sterilization

f the criminal insane. An attempt also will be made to change the banking laws of Oregon to conform to the banking laws of Oklanform to the banking laws of Okla-ma and to the laws advocated in the tional platform of the Democratic party in the recent campaign.

OF COURT'S SENTENCE

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—Concerning the recent sentence of himself and other officials of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers today said:

"The granting of the injunction and the sentence imposed by Judge Wright were grossly unjust, and not even a judge nor his sentence can put a stigma upon my colleagues nor myself, nor make criminals of us. The injustice of it is shown by the fact that the very things we are forbidden to do every other citizen has the right to do, and is this that we are protesting Quil. Nebekér is worried over another, a political matter, the disappear ance of David H. Morris, one of the two Democrats elected to the eighth legislature, who has vanished from view completely. Not but that David isn't big enough to take care of himself, but 'Quil. fears he has met with foul play. He went so far Sunday night at a gathering at the Wilson to state to Senator Seeley of Sanpete that he was conator Seeley of Sanpete that he was con-vinced that the Republican majority had done away with Morris, and he offered a reward of $500 that would offered a reward of $500 that would lead to information in regard to Morris. Seelev taking the imputation as personal said that if it was found that the Republican majority had stolen Morris he himself would pay the reward and would make it $500. What 'Quil wants with Morris is to have a Democratic cancus between Morris, Fletcher, Hammond and himself, to distribute the Democratic proportion of the state patronage. He knows enough of parliamentary rules to understand that two to understand that two mentary rules men cannot hold a caucus, and he wants Morris.

WHAT THE PEOPLE WILL DEMAND OF LEGISLATURE

The Green River Dispatch says that a delegation from Grand and Emery counties will visit the legislature for the purpose of presenting facts and figures regarding an appropriation to build a bridge across Green river. Her-is what the Dispatch says:

is what the Dispatch says:

Petitions are being circulated and largely signed by renidents of this and adjoining localities, praying Gov. Spry and the new legislature for a $55,000 appropriation for a wagon bridge across the Green river just north of the railroad bridge. The governor and many influential politicians of Salt Lake are known to be favorable to the proposition, and it is believed that without doubt the appropriation can be secured. At the Commercial cub meeting tomorrow night final arrangements for sending a delegation to the state capital will be consummated. This matter is of vital interest, and every one should attend.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Hudson Memorial bridge, the latest designed by the New York bridge department and more interesting perhaps from an engineering standpoint than any other around New York, will serve not only as a connecting link between New York and Spuyten Duyvil, a suburb, but will also commemorate the discovery of the Hudson river by Hendrick Hudson nearly 300 years ago.

The bridge and the approaches will be about 1500 feet long, with four semicircular arches of 108 feet span on the Spuyten Duyvil side and three on the New York side, with an enormous arch of 700 feet between them. The bridge will be of reinforced concrete, exceeding in magnitude many times any arched bridge ever built of stone, brick or concrete.

About a year ago Mr. Fotis saw the picture of the woman who became his wife Sunday at the home of a friend in this city. Through the friend it was arranged for him to correspond with her. In a short time they became deeply attached to each other. Mr. Fotis made all arrangements for the trip of his bride-to-be to this country with his brother. S. Fotis, and they arrived here three weeks ago. The letters, which had to travel across the continent to New York, thence across the Atlantic to New York, thence across the Atlantic and Mediterranean occans to the little hamlet in Greece where Mrs. Fotis theu made her home, were effective and the meeting in this city between the two demonstrated that neither had made a

The groom was accompanied by Charles Ferros and Gust Anagnestop-oules, while the bride was ushered to the altar by S. Fotis, who made the long trip to this country with his brother's betrothed. Following out the custom of the Following out the custom of the Greeks, previous to going to the church Mr. Fotis's friends assembled and went to the home of the bride, in company with the groom, and from there all went to the church in separate carriages, where the bride and groom met.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs.
Fotis were congratulated and then the newly married couple and guests en-tered carriages and were driven to the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Potis at 936 West Second South street. At the home another reception took place. Greek candies and wines were served and the event was celebrated according event was celebrated according to the Greek custom
